

WE NOMINATE

Erik Sjoqvist, internationally known in the field of classical archaeology and the only scholar-teacher of his generation to "re-discover" and "uncover" a major ancient city "lost to history" for over 2,000 years, who this week returns to his native Sweden and retires from the Princeton University Faculty. For the past two decades the 65-year old Sjoqvist, a former special assistant and adviser to the King of Sweden, has done more than any American scholar to revive interest in classical studies and to drive home the point that excavations, like basic research in the natural and social sciences, are of fundamental importance in the advancement of knowledge.

Intensive work in the hot hills of Sicily has confirmed that a site, pinpointed by Sjoqvist in 1953, is the long-lost city of Morgantina, a fortified center that flourished some 22 centuries ago and, at its high point, had perhaps 20,000-30,000 inhabitants. Continuing research at Morgantina, carried forward in alternate years by Sjoqvist and his "partner," Professor Emeritus Richard Stillwell, documents critical periods of Hellenic civilization, an era culminated in a sense by the Romans' decision in 211 B.C. to punish Morgantina and to give it as a reward to a group of Spanish mercenary soldiers whose minted coins provided the clues for its re-entry into history.

Director of the Swedish Institute in Rome from 1910 through 1918, Sjoqvist, a brilliant linguist with established competence in a dozen different languages, first saw Princeton in 1918-19 as a Visiting Professor. The following year he returned to Sweden as special adviser and assistant, first to the Crown Prince and then to the King, and came back to this community in 1951, at a time when "archaeology and scholarship in the art, history and language of Antiquity was becoming unproductive, stereotyped and superficial." It was his contentment that humanistic scholarship must be alive.

A native of Ronneby, Sweden, who began his scholarly work in ancient history and in the history of religion, Sjoqvist was educated at the University of Uppsala. In 1926 he received a scholarship at the Swedish Archaeological Institute in Rome and the same year was assistant to the Swedish excavations in Greece. He subsequently participated in the Swedish Cyprus Expedition and became librarian of the Royal Library in Stockholm. Prior to his elevation to the directorship of the Swedish Institute in Rome, he was named a senior member of the faculty in the University of Stockholm.

In 1946-48 Sjoqvist was secretary-general of the International Union of the Institutes of Archaeology, History, and History of Art in Rome and was also President of the International Association for Classical Archaeology. He is a corresponding member of the Pontifical Roman Academy of Archaeology, a foreign member of the Accademia Nazionale dei Lincei, a member of the National Italian Society for Medieval History, a councillor of the American Numismatic Society, a foreign member of the German Archaeological Institute, a Fellow of the Swedish Archaeological Society, a Councillor of the International Association for Classical Archaeology, and a member of the Norwegian Academy of Science, the Swedish Academy of History, and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

For using his base in the "New World" to strengthen his fellow men's understanding of "the Old"; for bolstering this community's role as "the most distinguished center of classical study in this country"; for emphasizing there must be young scholars to succeed "those of us retiring"; he is our nominee as

MALE IS OUT

State Rules "No." Raymond F. Male was denied certification by a 7-2 vote of the state department of education's board of examiners on Tuesday.

The action eliminated Mr. Male as a candidate for the job of principal at Princeton High School.

Tuesday night, only a few hours after the rejection, the Princeton Regional School Board appointed Miss Florence Burke as acting principal of the high school for the next year. The search for a new principal will be resumed in the fall, the board said.

Miss Burke has been assistant principal of the high school since 1960 and dean of girls in the last year. A graduate of PHS, she joined its staff in 1944 as a math teacher and served as assistant dean of girls under Miss Jean Wright from 1958 to 1960. She was graduated from Douglass College and holds a master's degree in student personnel administration.

Tuesday night's meeting was a lengthy one, cracking with emotions that frequently sputtered into flame.

"The board has not been fair to this community," charged Mrs. Inez Hinds. "You tried to run only one candidate down our throats!"

Do you mean to say that out of 48 applicants, only one was fit to be principal?" demanded Orren Jack Turner.

Board president John Marks told Mrs. Hinds, "It would have been unfair to other candidates to have said publicly they were." To Mr. Turner, he replied, "We all agreed that Mr. Male was the best candidate."

"We did NOT all agree on Mr. Male," retorted board member Kathleen Edwards. "I voted 'no' on him. I want someone with strong educational qualifications."

"There is great educational unrest everywhere, and many principals are resigning," commented board member Shelby Rooks. "I don't want a 'tired candidate—I want creativity, energy and hope. We didn't find that kind of candidate. I bet together. Please, please was moved about Mr. Male. Vote, and say no more. I think a candidate should have a more unanimous board behind him. We're at odds with each other on so many issues on this board!"

Fireworks. Board member Harvey Rothberg then turned to Superintendent Philip E. McPherson and said, "This is what happens when we have a superintendent who takes us down a path that leads no where, allowing an uncertain candidate to be pursued despite the strong objections of several board members."

Applause followed, and a few "Aaaaah!"s. Dr. McPherson flushed and replied tartly, "If board superintendent problems exist, it's because the board is weak. If the board doesn't seem to be dealing with it, then there is no problem and you are in a minority."

Suddenly from the audience, Kenneth Michael rose, and in a voice on the brink of tears, said:

"This is a dear concern of mine, and please any further discussion would gain nothing. Dr. Rothberg is out of order and I am sorry to hear my friend speak such words. We have a recommendation to appoint Miss Burke acting principal. Let us accept this, then hopefully find a way to bring all board members together. Please, please was moved about Mr. Male. Vote, and say no more. I think a candidate should have a more unanimous board behind him. We're at odds with each other on so many issues on this board!"

He silenced the beginnings of applause with "I don't want to be in the audience called out. Let's not act as though the high school were a pre-arranged young lady who must get married!"

Dean of Faculty? But not son built again as Donald Blankenbush, high school teacher and former president of the teachers' PREA asked, "But what about Frank Soda?"

The faculty had sponsored him as a candidate for the principal's job. More recently, 127 members of the PHS faculty petitioned the board for a new position.

Dean of the Faculty with curriculum responsibilities, Mr. Soda was the Dean the faculty wanted.

Dr. McPherson acknowledged the request for a Dean, but told Mr. Blankenbush he had nobody to recommend. He described a curriculum and instruction job carrying the salary and authority of an assistant principal.

After a discussion that bogged into detail, the board tabled the matter for study.

Riverside Principal. A principal for Riverside has been chosen, but she won't begin until February 1 because of previous commitments. Dr. McPherson announced.

She is Mrs. Vernon Scott, acting principal of Hunter College Elementary School in New York. Former instructor at Hunter College and a renowned black educator, her husband is an administrator with New York's "Model Cities" program.

Dr. Banks and Mrs. Marks observed that all board members, including Riverside faculty and "everybody else" agreed a new Mrs. Scott's appointment. An acting principal will be named to serve Riverside for the fall term.

Norran Van Arsdale, director of physical education for the elementary schools, has been named special assistant to the superintendent for physical education, athletics, health and safety.

Dr. McPherson said the new position, including a spot for Mr. Van Arsdale on a new physical education policy committee, gives "Mr. Van a very strong role in the school system."

Stanley J. Stein, will be coordinator of personnel services, succeeding Russell Stanley. He has been at the high school in a special counseling job under the state's department of labor and industry.

Extra Pay. "We aren't completely satisfied," stated football coach Richard Wood, after Dr. Rothberg announced the "extra pay extra services" agreement for next year.

Mr. Wood said the coaches didn't object so much to salaries, but to the fact that they were "juggling," the athletic director, isn't mentioned at all and to the stress the board gives "contact hours," meaning the hours a coach actually spends with students.

He also charged that, although coaches prepared a salary request in late fall, they weren't called for discussion until after the budget had been passed at the end of February.

He added that the high school athletic department is very anxious to have a trainer and an equipment man included in their budget.

"We are concerned about that," assured Dr. Rothberg, "and if there's a way to fit them in, we'll do it."

Board member Winthrop Pike reminded Mr. Wood that, under state law, the board can negotiate only with the legally recognized bargaining agent. In Princeton's case, this is the PREA. The board cannot legally hold separate negotiations with, say, coaches, Mr. Pike said.

Dr. Rothberg took Mr. Wood to task for "negotiating in the newspapers." The coaches' dispute with the board has been the subject of news stories. He added, "I wish to state unequivocally that there is no 'strike' between board and coaches."

Mr. Pike explained that Mr. Jingo had been included because he's a department head, and "extra pay" doesn't include them. He also pointed out that the new agreement is for one year only.

Under the new program, the cost of "extra pay" will jump from $23,847 to $37,857. Because of budget strictures, the pay will be only 85% of what a coach, be he football coach or drama coach, is actually entitled to.

MALE REJECTION SCORED

By Education Commissioner. In Trenton Tuesday afternoon, State Education Commissioner Carl L. Marburger took strong exception to the State Board of Examiners' decision not to certify Raymond F. Male as a candidate for principal of Princeton High School.

Mr. Marburger found the ruling "most unfortunate because of the historic opportunity to break new ground in the movement of public education." Proponents of Mr. Male's selection had hoped that the board would waive the requirements that he have three years of teaching experience, a teaching certificate and 24 credit hours in curriculum, supervision and administration.

The State Board of Examiners had created a certification appeals committee to consider acceptance of non-certified individuals in public education. The committee unanimously recommended that Mr. Male be certified without having met the state requirements, but the Board of Examiners nonetheless rejected him.

There was public opposition to the concept of appointing a non-certified candidate at Tuesday's morning of the Board of Examiners. Some 40 representatives of teachers and administrators organizations were present to express blanket disapproval of Mr. Male's acceptance for the position here. Mr. Male holds a master's degree in public administration from Princeton University, but lacks the basic requirements in the field of education. For the past nine years, he has been State Board Commissioner.

TOPICS Of The Town

"WEDNESDAYS" APPROVED
By 5-3 Vote. A Wednesday Program for next year was approved Tuesday night by a 5-3 vote of the Princeton Regional School Board.

Harvey Rothberg, Winthrop Pike and Kathleen Edwards cast the "no" votes. William Z. Abrams was not present. Mr. Pike said he was voting "with some reluctance." Dr. Rothberg said although he supported the concept, he saw "insufficient evidence of administrative direction." Mrs. Edwards made no comment.

Replying to Dr. Rothberg, Superintendent Philip E. McPherson said that teaching staff direction, and not administrative direction, was the whole idea. "I am confident that the staff is taking hold," he said. "It's their baby. I'm sorry some people missed the point."

Dr. McPherson and board president John Marks assured several anxious members of Tuesday's audience that a "sensitivity program," by whatever name, was not in present plans for Wednesday. "But we will continue to examine such programs," Dr. McPherson said. "Maybe the staff will want one."

In his recommendations, the superintendent calls for four yearly reviews of the program, starting this August, and urges special committees to work out scheduling programs for kindergarten and high school.

His other recommendations accord with those of the professional consultants. (See below.) Asked to define "more administrative support," he suggested a possible $15-20,000 budgeted for a full-time coordinator, secretary and released time for faculty working on the program.

Dr. Rothberg, despite his "no" vote, observed that this was a "relatively inexpensive program."

The Rev. C. Shelby Rooks, who moved adoption of the program, said his motion and vote recorded his confidence in the teaching staff. "I hope this will encourage the staff toward creative change," he said, "but the program is not a panacea."

Last Thursday's public discussion of the Wednesday Program was unexpectedly quiet, as though everybody had long since talked the subject dry. Only 100 people showed up at the high school when 300 had been expected.

The three professional consultants hired to appraise the program, said in a four and one-half page report, that they were "impressed." "It is a major effort in an untied field which merits the applause of the board and of the community generally," the consultants said.

The evaluators were James Cass, education editor of The Saturday Review, Peter Buttenweiser, executive director of the Pennsylvania Advancement School and William D. Boutwell, vice-president of Scholastic Magazines, Inc.

Recommendations from the consultants for next year:

- Greater efforts to explain "the meaning and importance of the Wednesday Program to the Princeton community. Reforms are often frightening in and of themselves, but never more so than when they are only partially understood."

- Tighter organization, and "more structured offerings" for teachers who want them.

- Clarification of the "considerable vagueness in explanations of what the program is, what it is meant to accomplish, how it fits into the larger strategy for improving education in the community."

- Board action to provide more administrative support for the program.

- "Stronger alternatives" in the community for children on Wednesday afternoons.

Teachers. The report stated "There seems no doubt that the experience of many teachers... has affected their teaching performance directly," and observed that many teachers had put in time beyond the hours in the program.

Teachers in a questionnaire, voted 219-71 in favor of released-time for professional improvement next year. Thirty-seven did not answer.

Community. For townspeople taking part in the Wednesday program, Mrs. D. D. Ingwerson reported that "Wednesdays" had opened channels between teachers and parents.
Community participants hope for "continued and improved" community participation, she told Thursday's audience.

A recommendation to eliminate the "Community Program" at John Witherspoon School was made by the four women who ran it.

"We do not believe that the Wednesday Program should bear the burden of providing activities for children, even those of working mothers," the report said.

The women — Mrs. J. R.
Cleaver, Mrs. V. G. Bruce,
Mrs. Nathaniel Boin and Mrs.
David Mackey — said most of the 100 children they absorbed, didn't seem to be children of working mothers unable to make other arrangements.

Letters, John Marks, president of the school board, told the audience that most letters praising the Wednesday Program cited increased communication among teachers, between teachers and parents and between teachers and other people on the school staff, like cafeteria workers and custodians.

Custodians themselves, in their report, said more of them would like to take part in the Wednesday Program, but it hadn't been given time off.
Cafeteria workers said teachers showed "a genuine interest in our cooking program," and children are easier to handle going through the line, and respect us "more."

Letters critical of the Wednesday Program, Mr. Marks reported, protested chiefly that "educational time is being lost." Parents also complained that the program is oriented to teachers, and Mr. Marks observed, "That's a valid complaint, but won't a teacher-oriented program eventually benefit students?"

Board Opinion. Two board members, Dr. William Z.
Abrams and Dr. Harvey Roth-berg — stated that they believed in the Wednesday Program concept, but were not happy about some details.
Dr. Abrams advocated consideration of a whole day instead of a single afternoon and Dr. Rothberg urged more gaiety from the top on which problems to study on Wednesdays.

When board member C. Shelby Rooks declined to comment and said, "I think we're here to listen to the community, not the board," Dr. Abrams protested.

He issued a statement later, saying, "I want the community to know my point of view about policy matters BEFORE — and I emphasize BEFORE — I vote so the citizens can support my view if they choose."

"I must express my views publicly," Dr. Abrams asserted, "and then support the view of the majority of the board."
When we on the board fight out an issue in private, the citizen has no chance to know my viewpoint."

Problems Solved? Mrs. Norman Frisch charged that the program wasn't directed toward urgent problems.

Mrs. George Frenon of the school board, replied, "Specific problems have indeed been tackled," and she cited language, science and French curricula in the Middle School; revision of American History I in the high school; treatment of reading disabilities and high school math.

"If the teachers want it, it's good enough for me," stated Richard Magee. "But let's get it!! Let's solve our problems!"
William Cherry suggested that some teachers be assigned.

Poet's Lament

I will miss
The month of June;
It's hard to rhyme
"July" with "moon."

June is about to bow out after having provided higher temperatures and more rainfall than normal for the month. This is particularly so in the matter of precipitation, which could reach double the usual amount before July arrives.

The pattern for the first half of the summer may have been set: the long-range forecast calls for both temperature and rainfall to continue above average during the coming month, with the immediate future, at least, the humidity will keep pace.

Speaking for teachers who are skittish about being told what to do, and are concerned about their freedom, Mrs.
Robert Solomon, teacher on the program could be more structured "if the staff feels the need." She pointed out that teachers themselves are well

"THE DRIVING FORCE BEHIND IT" Dean Chase, chairman of the Joint Recreation Board, throws out the first ball prior to the start of the first game played by the PBA League at Community Park. Previously, the league used as many as a half a dozen diamonds scattered around town several in poor playing condition. This year, it asked permission of the Recreation Commission to use Community Park's four diamonds. Recreation Director Donald Barr reported that Mr. Chase, as chairman of the board, was the one most instrumental in getting permission for the league to play at the park. "He was the driving force behind it," he said.

aware of problems in the school system.

This program shouldn't be only problem-oriented," said Robert Martin, "it should be 'free space' to discover new things and make intellectual inquiries. Why not hire Seminary or University students for remedial work with children? This program is the kind of freedom I, as a member of the community, am deeply grateful for."

"SENSITIVITY" TRIED
By "Wednesday" Group. Seventeen parents and teachers who belonged to the Wednesday Evening Program during the spring school term are now in a Sensitivity Program of their own on Wednesday evenings.

This is the so-called 'ad hoc' committee appointed to confer with school officials about demands for sensitivity training of Princeton's public school teachers.

"We decided that if we're asking teachers to take sensitivity training, we should experience it ourselves so we can know more about it," said Mrs. Floyd Campbell, a member of the ad hoc group.

The 17 met last Wednesday for five hours with David Harris, who led sensitivity training in Lawrence Township, and they are scheduled to meet with him again this Wednesday.

School administrators have told the Wednesday Evening committee that sensitivity work is probably more effective on a voluntary basis than when it is mandatory.

SHEEHAN WINS

In Zoning Case. The Borough has to give Timothy Sheehan his permit for the three-story office building he plans on the corner of Nassau and Markham Roads.

After hearing six days of testimony, Judge Frank Kingfield of Superior Court in Trenton said last Thursday that because Mr. Sheehan had gone ahead with his excavation work under the permit, he was entitled to have it back again.

The judge has not yet handed down a formal judgment in the case. And Borough Council hasn't yet conferred with municipal attorney Gordon Griffin about a possible appeal.

Mr. Sheehan plans an underground parking area beneath his three-story structure. Original plans showed retail stores at street level, but the new zoning ordinance forbids new stores in that part of town.

Mr. Sheehan obtained his building permit under the old zoning ordinance. But under a clause in the new zoning law, all building permits were cancelled the date the ordinance was passed. That was last November 20. The point of the cancellation was to limit growth of business and commercial buildings.

Mr. Sheehan went ahead

anyway and began excavating for his new building. He was the only builder to do so.

In his verbal opinion, Judge Kingfield did not invalidate the new zoning ordinance.

NO TERNHUNE

Link Is Postponed. The controversial missing link in Terhune Road south of Snowden Lane has been unanimously and indefinitely postponed by Township Committee.

Mayor John D. Wallace told his press conference this week that he agreed with area residents who predicted that Princeton-Kingston Road traffic would swing onto Dodds Lane and Concord, making a kind of loop road out of streets that weren't intended to carry that kind of traffic.

Deferral of construction puts about $40,000 back into the Township's kitty. Mayor Wallace said there are several ideas about spending this money: new guard-rails for 3,900 feet of Quaker Bridge Road at a cost of $19,500, or resurfacing some additional streets or possibly reconstructing the blacktop sidewalk on Snowden between Leabrook and Abernethy.

ship residents with ideas about how to spend money for capital improvements are invited to write Administrator Joseph R. Nini, Mr. Nini and other officials are drawing up the 1970 capital budget.

A dozen young men 16 and 17 years old, have been hired for summer work on road crews and Open Space lands, Mayor Wallace said. They were hired through YES — the Youth Employment Service — and the channels of last summer's Job Fete. One youth, who worked last summer, is now a supervisor.

TAKES HEROIN OVERDOSE

Youth, 16, Nearly Dies. A 16-year-old Princeton youth was rushed to Princeton Hospital at 8:30 Friday night and admitted in serious condition to the intensive care unit after taking an overdose of heroin.

"It was tough and go for a while," he nearly died," commented L. Michael Carnevale. Then, shaking his head slightly, he added: "I hate to say it, but this community is really overdue for a death like this. Then everybody would be up in arms."

Lights on Elm

Construction is nicely along on the traffic lights that will guard the intersection of Cleveland Lane and Elm Road in Rosedale.

Once in and out, the lights will be full traffic lights for only two hours in the morning and two hours during late afternoon traffic.

The rest of the day they will be blinkers only. That's the county's idea.

Also admitted to the hospital at the same time were two companions of the youth: a 15-year-old and a 17-year-old. One was admitted on the advice of two doctors, police said. All are still in the hospital. The 16-year-old's condition is no longer considered serious, police said.

The youths, all Princeton residents, have been charged with possession and use of heroin by Borough juvenile officer Thomas Proacino. Police said the two youngest were students at Princeton High School; the oldest, in whose rented Borough apartment the three were when the overdose was taken, was not a student police said.

Called to the apartment by one of the youths, the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad notified Borough police when it discovered the nature of the call. Sgt. Ralph Proacino and Ptl. William Hunter responded.

"We're not talking about marijuana any more, we're talking about heroin," said Lt. Carney, stressing the seriousness of the situation. He said that the police investigation revealed that one of the youths had been taking heroin for some time.

TWO CARS LOOTED

In Township. Two cars parked in the Township were entered last week and articles valued at a total of $301 were stolen.

Alex Zakreski of Linden told police that while he was waiting Sunday on Lake Carnegie, someone forced open a vent window of his car parked on South Harrison Street and stole two fishing rods and reels worth $30 and a tackle box filled with lures valued at $65. He placed the time of the theft at between 3 and 7 p.m.

Earlier, Robert Hutchinson of Hightstown told police he had parked his car in the Shopping Center lot and when he returned he discovered a $150 tape recorder and a $6 tape cartridge had been stolen. Police said he told them he had locked the car but had left the windows open a half-inch to let air in.

John H. Williams, foreman for a Trenton painting firm, reported last week that a paint spray gun and six brushes with a total value of $22 had been stolen from a room in the University's new mathematics building on Washington Road. Police said the equipment had been stored in a room in which a temporary door of plywood had been removed.

Two Entries Reported. Last Tuesday, Harry Stout of 1 Drakes Corner Road discovered the cellar door to his house had been broken open and a pane glass over a lock in a pantry window broken.

Upon investigating, he discovered a .40 gauge shotgun had been taken as well as other hunting accessories including shells, binoculars and arrows. Total value: $243.45.

Two days later, while walking in the woods some 500 yards from his home, he found some of the missing articles hidden under some leaves. The value of the recovered items was $110.45. Ptl. David Cronwell investigated.

Township police also report the apparent entry into the refreshment stand last week at the Community Park Pool.

Mario Perzyna, operator of the stand, told police he had left at 7. When he returned at 9:30 p.m., he noticed the upper half of a Dutch Door was open and the lights were on. Police reported they found pry marks on the bottom half of the door but it was secure.

Apparently nothing was taken, they said, because everything inside the stand was intact, including money in the cash register.

TRENTON TRIO CHARGED

With Shoplifting. Three Trenton residents, two women and a man, have been charged with shoplifting at two Princeton apparel shops by Borough police.

Arrested Saturday at the corner of Moore and Nassau Streets as they were having trouble with their car were Helen Fleming, 31, Deborah Taylor, 31 and Theodore Davis, 27. The latter two were released in $100 bail each and Mrs. Fleming in $50 bail to await a Township court hearing on July 23.

On Friday, the Ladybug, 16, Nassau, told police that two women and a man had shoplifted a $30 tennis dress. Next day, the Improvisation Boutique, 185 Nassau, reported that a trio answering the same description had shoplifted two women's suits and a knit dress with a total value of $178.

Police said they believe more was taken but the manager was able to identify positively only these three as stolen.

Police said the manner of operation was the same in each case. The man engaged the clerk in conversation while the two women went through the racks.

Hardware Store and stolen two portable television sets, it was the result of a beefed up patrol on duty during the high incidence crime hours between 8 p.m. and 4 a.m.
Lt. Michael Carnevale revealed that Borough police have added two men to the regular patrols during those hours. "Last week brought results," he said.
The Wright entry and larceny occurred at 3:50 in the morning.

BANK TAX BONANZA?
Borough Would Benefit. A proposed $25 million municipal aid program for New Jersey, to be financed by sharply increased taxes on bank stock and on the net worth of other financial institutions, would bring an estimated $144,000 in its first year to Princeton Borough. Such revenue would be equivalent to 31 cents in the current tax rate.

The formula devised by Gov. Hughes favors municipalities in which banks and loan, mortgage and finance companies are based. Although Princeton Bank and Trust Company has recently designated its Route 206 building as its main office, Princeton Township is listed under the current proposal as scheduled to receive only $24,500.

Gov. Hughes wants the proposed increase in taxes made retroactive to January 1. He points out that banks and financial business pay no state corporate income tax or business personal property tax, and that their federal corporate income tax is proportionately lower than other corporations. The Governor said that the bank stock tax has not been increased for half a century and that the financial business tax has remained the same since 1966. In the face of this, he asserted, bank profits have risen steadily.

PRESIDENTIAL SCHOLAR: Harold J. Logan, 1963 graduate of Princeton High School, received a bronze medal from Vice-President Spiro Agnew at a ceremony in Washington earlier this month. He was one of 121 high school students designated as Presidential Scholar for outstanding academic achievement.

Opposition in the Legislature to Gov. Hughes' plan is expected to be strong. Banks and savings and loan associations are represented in Trenton by strong lobbying groups.

Under the suggested formula, 469 of the state's 567 municipalities would benefit but 50 of them would receive two-thirds of the proceeds from the tax. Gov. Hughes has asked the Legislature to reconvene in special session on July 14 to consider his proposal.

APARTMENTS?
Plainsboro May Have 5,000. Plainsboro Township may be trading farm land for apartment buildings and increased rates within the next few years, if a proposal by a Texas firm to build a 5,000 unit apartment complex is approved.

The Lincoln Property Company of Dallas, which calls it the "fastest growing apartment developer" in the Southwest, is negotiating with several Plainsboro residents, Harold Britton, Stanley Barclay, Bernard Brandon, Mrs. Thomas Mount and Chester Steen, to buy 700 acres on Plainsboro Road near Cranbury Township.

Founded in 1962 to build and operate apartment complexes, Lincoln is also planning an 18 hole championship golf course, around which the units would be built, and several small shopping centers, containing neighborhood stores to serve apartment dwellers. No large department stores are planned. Rental fees would run between $165 and $460 a month. Lincoln's plans call for 10-12 units per acre in apartments or townhouses at a rate of 500 units a year, leaving 75 percent open space, which will include a large pond.

Members of the township's planning board met with officials of the company unofficially last week. Mr. Britton, planning board chairman, said that the firm would present sketch plans to the board in "two or three months."

The area in question is currently zoned residential with 35,000 foot lots, and no new multiple-family units are permitted in the township at present, forcing the need for major revisions in zoning before the development could be built.

Perhaps outweighing this, however, would be the $70 million in rateables the project would bring in when it is completed in 10-15 years, according to an estimate by Mr. Britton. This would provide an annual tax yield of more than $1.4 million at present rates. The township, which has a population of only some 2,000 people at the moment, collects about $170,000 on rateables of $18 million. "If they perform as promised, it would cut our peoples' taxes in half," Mr. Britton said.

He pointed out that the apartments would cater to age groups with few if any school-age children, those between 20 and 30 and those over 55. Mr. Britton said the developer's policies would be similar to those of Millstone Apartments, where there are only three children in 133 units. "It's run as planned, there will be fewer than 150 children from the 5,000 units."

QUINBY RESIGNING

As Township Engineer,
Frank Quinby, Township engineer, has resigned effective July 31, and will go into private consulting work.

Mr. Quinby, who lives at 10
Monroe Lane, joined the Township's engineering department in 1933 as an assistant, left briefly in 1961-62, and was appointed engineer on January 1, 1967.

No successor to Mr. Quinby has been chosen, and the Township is now interviewing candidates for the job. Among them will probably be the assistant engineer, Joseph Hodak, Mr. Quinby's current salary is $16,400.

POLICE SURVEY STARTS

In Township, Riding patrol cars with the men, examining police equipment, measuring office space, studying community relations practices and personnel policies, the professional consultant surveying the Township police department is already a week into his new assignment, heading toward a late August deadline.

Thomas Brennan of Executive Management Service is the man on the job. Mayor John D. Wallace said this week that Mr. Brennan has already met with Chief James Campbell, Commissioner William L. Wilson, Administrator Joseph E.
Nini and almost all the men on the force, explaining his procedures.

"He will do everything except individual personality evaluations of the men," Mayor Wallace stated.

The mayor added that Mr.
Brennan has also been asked to look at the feasibility of consolidating Township and Borough police departments.
The Township is paying $4,750 for the survey.

WOMAN PAYS FOUR FINES
In Borough Traffic Court,
Mary Foyntekemp, 25, 46
Spring Street, paid four fines
Monday in Borough Traffic court.

Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. fined her $15 for driving on a permit without the presence of a licensed driver; $10 for an inoperative left brake light; $10 for no registration in possession; and $15 for failing to have her car inspected. She pleaded not guilty to the last two charges.

Mrs. Sydney S. Taggart, 36,
57 Cleveland Lane, and Louise
L. Miller, 74, 51 Wilson Road, were each fined $15 for careless driving. Mrs. Taggart pleaded not guilty.

In criminal court, Santora L.
Mendosa, 42, was sentenced to five days in the Mercer County Workhouse for being drunk and disorderly. He has no known address, police said.

PROGRESS REPORT: The new (and straighter!) bridge over the Millstone River and canal at Kingston won't be ready until next year, although work has been under way for some weeks. Shown here are the footings on either side of the canal. The old, accident-prone bridge won't be torn down, but it won't be in much use, either, when the new span is completed. (Staff Photo)

HEARS CAR HIT TREE

Watches It Ram His Home,
A Township man had the unnerving experience late Monday night of hearing a car hit a tree outside his home and then watch it ram the front of his house.

Edward Johanson, 752 Prospect Avenue Extension, was watching television at 11:28, according to police, when he heard the impact of a car striking a tree. He went to the window and saw the car coming straight toward his house.

It rammed the front wall, pushing in the lower portion about a foot.

Mr. Johanson's knee was injured as a result of the crash but he did not require medical attention, police said. His

Karin, 13, and Amy, 9, were asleep upstairs.

Police identified the driver as Ernie P. Ball, 33, of Philadelphia. He was knocked unconscious briefly. Badly shaken by his experience, he was examined at Princeton Hospital and released. Ptl. William Potts, the investigating officer, charged him with careless driving.

Mr. Ball told police he was unfamiliar with the area and had become lost. Driving on Prospect, he came to a curve in the road and lost control of his car. He told police he did not remember anything after that.

It was raining and foggy at the time of the accident.

Two Cars Collide. Two cars had to be towed away and 21 feet of fence at the home of Mario Trani, 247 Valley Road, was damaged, as a result of a collision Friday afternoon at the intersection of Valley Road and Ewing Street.

Marilyn C. Johnson, 19, of Trenton, one of the drivers, was treated at Princeton Hospital for a laceration of her right knee. She was tickled by Ptl. Mario Musso for failing to observe a stop sign.

Miss Johnson told police that she never saw the sign or the other car until the moment of impact. She added she was on around 9:15. Tickets $2 for adults, $1 for children to 9:30 p.m. at which time all tickets will be $2.

8:30 p.m.: "A Shot in the Dark," Murray Theatre.

Saturday, July 5

Public Library begins Summer schedule, closed Saturdays during July and August.

8:30 p.m.: "A Shot in the Dark," Murray Theatre.

Look, Mom, No Hands!

While he was on duty Monday morning, Borough Ptl. James Bloch noticed a car rolling down Witherspoon Street near Lahiere's Restaurant with three small children in it and no driver.

He jumped in the car and stopped it in front of the restaurant. He checked anything. Inside were three children ranging in age from 2 to 6.

"Apparently one bumped the gear shift out of 'Park,'" police said. They declined to identify the woman driver, who was not a Princeton resident.

Ellen M. Hardy, 21, 275 Mount Lucas Road, the second driver, also told police that she never saw the Johnson car until impact.

THE LONGEST DAY

Swedish Residents Celebrate. You have to know the long dark Swedish winter to appreciate fully Midsummer's Day — the longest, most sun-filled day in the whole year. Midsummer was celebrated on Sunday, June 22, by a gathering of Swedish families who live in Princeton. They garlanded the "Midsummer Stang" — the Midsummer Pole that's like a Maypole with flowers and leaves, and then danced in circles around it, in ancient rituals as old as man's need for the sun.

The party was held at the Harrison Street home of Mr. and Mrs. Margaretha, Mrs. Maryk belongs to an informal group of about 15 Swedish girls who have married American men. They meet once or twice a month to sew, practice their Swedish, drink good Swedish coffee and eat — well, maybe Danish pastries.

Our group grew in a kind of Swedish, drink good Swedish coffee and eat — well, maybe Danish pastries. "If you're walking down Nassau Street and you see a blonde girl wearing Swedish wooden shoes, maybe you say to her 'Forlåt ar du June 18, Mr. and Mrs. John Svensson are you Swedish?' and

IT'S CALLED AN AGGLUTINOSCOPE: French hematologists have produced a new photo blood device, which received its preliminary American showing at Princeton Hospital last week. The device, a Photographic Agglutinoscope, produces a finished identity photograph with the subject's name and blood group on the picture. Story with the scope is Maurice Lahasque, who assisted in its development and accompanied it to the United States. The unit is being shown under the auspices of A.M.E. Biological Research, Lee Sanna Associates and Ed Henrys of Princeton.

SIGNS APPROVED

For Bank on Route 206. Directional signs telling you where to exit, enter and line up for drive-in banking, were approved for Princeton Bank & Trust's main Route 206 office by the Township Zoning Board Thursday.

P. B. & T. has tried before to get variances for these signs but has been turned down because zoners said the signs were too large. The approved signs were about half as large.

In other action the zoning board gave The Hun School a parking variance so it can lay out 34 parking spaces for its new gym instead of the required 125. The 34 spaces will all be paved. Hun will have to come back each year for renewal. Eventually, the school will build a swimming pool and this will alter the parking requirements.

LIBRARIES KEPT OPEN

In Regional Schools. During the summer months, the Princeton Regional School will keep their libraries open every weekday from 9 to 11:30 a.m., but at a different school each day. The schedule will be the same every week: Monday, John Witherspoon School; Tuesday, Littlebrook School; Wednesday, Riverside School; Thursday, Johnson Park School; and Friday, Community Park School.

The libraries will be staffed by adult librarians and volunteers. Children attending either Princeton Regional or Princeton private schools may borrow books for a two-week period, but the child need not attend the school from which he borrows a book.

John Counts, librarian at Littlebrook School is organizing a variety of daily programs. These will include movies, story telling, records, film

Obituaries

Frank Lynch, 80, of 297 Cherry Hill Road, died June 21 in Princeton Hospital after a short illness. He lived in Princeton for 40 years.

A native of New Zealand, he was employed as a mason for many years in the Department of Grounds and Buildings at Princeton University. He was a member of the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers Union, Local 30 of Princeton, and the Odd Fellows Lodge.

He is survived by two sons, George of Princeton and William of Phoenix, Ariz.; one daughter, Miss Dorothy Lynch, with whom he lived; two brothers, Joseph of Leesbury, Fla., and John of Keyport; three sisters, Mrs. Eva Sainsbury of South Africa, Mrs. Gertrude Bessette of Jackson, Wyo., and Mrs. Jessie Bunting of Sea Bright; five grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

The service was held at the Mather Funeral Home with the Rev. Clifford Shaube of Princeton Methodist Church officiating. Burial was in Princeton Cemetery.

Edward G. Clothier, 78, of 92 Moore Street, died June 23 in Princeton Hospital. Born in Trenton, he was a retired garage owner.

Mr. Clothier was a member of Trinity Episcopal Church. He was a former member of Mercer Engine Co. No. 3 and a member of the Exempt Firemen's Association.

He is survived by his wife, Elizabeth O'Kane Clothier; a son, Richard G. of Houston; and two grandchildren.

The service will be held Thursday at 1:30 p.m. at the Mather Funeral Home. The Rev. E. J. Auer officiating. Burial will be in Princeton Cemetery.

Joseph J. Ranallo, 49, of 110 Beacon Avenue, Ewing Township, died June 21 in Princeton Hospital. Born in Princeton, he had been a chef at the Princeton Hotel for 40 years.

Mr. Ranallo had lived in Ewing Township since 1955. He was a veteran of World War II.

Surviving are his wife, Eleanor Allen Ranallo; three sons, David and James of Ewing Township and Joseph J. Jr. of Mercerville; a daughter, Mrs. Joan Morris of Ewing Township; four sisters, Mrs. Emma Fowler and Mrs. Mary Meeker of Princeton; Mrs. Beatrice Meyer of Trenton; and Mrs. Clara Doherty of the Bronx, N.Y.; two brothers, Valentine, of Australia; and two grandchildren.

Requiem high mass was celebrated in St. Paul's Church, with burial in the parish cemetery under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Daniel G. Miller, 412 South Main Street, Princeton, died June 21 at his home. A native of Spring Glen, Pa., he had recently retired as an executive assistant of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. after 39 years of service.

A graduate of Perkiomen School, Pennsburg, Pa., he received a bachelor's degree in industrial engineering from Lehigh University. He was named division traffic manager of the telephone company's central area in 1962, and four years later became general traffic supervisor in Newark.

A vice-president of the Pennington Lions Club, he served on the Hopewell Township Board of Education for eight years. He was also past president of the H. G. McCully Chapter of the Telephone Pioneers of America.

RCA NAMES DIRECTOR
For New Research Laboratory, Nathan L. Gordon, 410 Riverside Drive has been appointed Director of a new RCA laboratory specifically devoted to computer software research, which will be located at the David Sarnoff Research Center in Princeton, N.J. Mr. Gordon headed the RCA Laboratories team which conducted the basic software research for the RCA Spectra 70/46 time sharing system.

The new laboratory will be initially staffed by more than 20 scientists, who are members of the technical staff of RCA Laboratories, as well as 12 computer operators and technicians. Facilities of the laboratory will include three computers: RCA Spectra 70/46, Spectra 70/46 and a RCA 604 scientific computer.

Mr. Gordon, the Director of the Laboratory, is a native of Elizabeth, N.J. He received his B.A. degree in Mathematics from Rutgers University in 1951, and served in the U.S. Marine Corps for three years before returning to Rutgers in 1954 as a teaching assistant and graduate student.

From 1958 to 1959, Mr. Gordon worked for the Army Signal Corps at Fort Monmouth, N.J., employing digital computers in solving research problems. He also was responsible for the development of scientific programs and the installation of several digital computers at Fort Monmouth. Mr. Gordon joined RCA Laboratories in 1959, specializing in scientific problem solving and research in numerical analysis. In 1962, he was appointed Head of the Applied Mathematics Group, and in 1967 Head of the Programming Research Group.

THERAPISTS MEET
300 Strong, Youngsters throughout the world who have learning troubles will benefit from meetings held this week under the direction of Barbara Knickerbocker, Princeton occupational therapist.

More than 300 therapists from 25 states, Canada, Switzerland, South America, and Puerto Rico have been at the Nassau Inn taking the six day perceptual motor study course organized by Miss Knickerbocker. She says it's the first time anything on this scale has been undertaken by a private practitioner.

Participants are occupational therapists who work with children in schools, private practitioners like Miss Knickerbocker, psychologists, speech therapists or pediatricians.

These people specialize in working with children who have trouble learning to read, write or spell because they have learning disorders of a "knickerbocker" nature. Miss Knickerbocker explains.

Five standardized tests have been developed by Dr. A. Jean Ayers, a specialist in the field, to measure and identify neurophysiological developmental problems, and Dr. Ayers is in Princeton to discuss the use of her tests.

To treat their young patients, specialists use various kinds of puzzles, perhaps balancing activities. Miss Knickerbocker accepts patients only on referral from doctors or schools and says she has more than she can handle. She likes to take a child young who doesn't have standing or sitting balance, perhaps a preschool child who has been slow to develop.

A DOLL'S HOUSE

People who live in Princeton don't know any better — there isn't any better; this house is a perfect example of why. It is in Princeton Township, it is in a fine neighborhood, it has lovely trees, it is tastefully decorated and it has had first rate upkeep. This is the house for the family on the move and it is within their price range.

A lower level has family room with fireplace & indoor-outdoor carpeting, a double bedroom with carpeting, 1½ bath, laundry room with stationary tubs and ventilation fan and storage room. On the main floor there is a center hall with bookshelves, living room with fireplace, dining area, kitchen with breakfast bar, 2 bedrooms and study or 3 bedrooms and a full bath with tub-shower. A summer bonus — central air conditioning. All this means perfection for just $45,000

SATISFY YOUR TASTE

A COLONIAL WITH

STYLISH ELEGANCE

The unfurnished surroundings of this 4 bedroom home in Montgomery Township offers the natural appeal of a running brook, trees and the quiet of a low traffic street.

The decorative instinct of the owner is evident in the panelled walls, the formal dining room, living room, hallways and foyers, and on doors. This classic touch is usually associated in homes old in years and expensive in cost.

Young Black Student Knows Both Princetons

He's seen both sides of Nassau Street as a graduate of Princeton High School and of Princeton University. Class of '69 and as a thoughtful black student, he's had a rather special view of both sides.

Jim Floyd Junior smiles and says in his gentle voice, "I'd been all through the Princeton public school system and you might say the University was just one more Princeton school so far as I was concerned."

Jim Floyd is the elder son of James A. Floyd, Princeton Township Committeeman. With his parents and his younger brother Mike, a senior at Rutgers, he lives at 64 Harris Road.

He looks back at his four University years and says, "I think the University's changed more in those four years than during any period in its history."

When Jim entered Princeton in the fall of '65, there were four black seniors. When he graduated this June, there were 16 black members of his class. This fall there will be 67 black freshmen in the Class of '73 — a four fold jump each time.

With so few in a student body of 3,200, you don't see the other black undergraduates every minute, and the University was like the Princeton schools in that regard.

There isn't a high percentage of black students in the public school system and at Princeton High. I don't see too many of the black students who weren't in academic courses."

But even beyond the black student count, there have been changes.

You could almost watch the change in those four years," he muses. "When I was a freshman, the University was very rah-rah, very Joe College. Dances, for example. The big dances were very popular my freshman year they were the highlight waits thoughtfully for the right of the year. By senior year," word to come. "I'm not a 'vis he shrugs, "well, they had the person, you might say faded out."

GRADUATE LOOKS AT TWO PRINCETONS: Jim Floyd Jr. is a graduate of Princeton High and Princeton University and as a cool-eyed psychology major, he has some comments to make.

The Association of Black Collegians wasn't formed until April of Jim's sophomore year and SDS, of course, was organized and rose to prominence during those four years.

Jim belonged to the ABC (the club's secretary) for two years. "People don't mean it," he explains. "The ABC is basically a social organization, not a political one." He wasn't in the New South demonstration.

Travel Is Broadening — and Deepening

Three months' traveling and living in Europe last summer brought "an expansion of horizons" to young Jim Floyd. He'd been in Europe before, with the Princeton High School Choir, but this time he stayed longer and came home with "deeper insight into life-styles in the United States and in Europe."

"The racial situation — well, in Europe, people don't always have race as an out-group criterion," the young black student says. "They may have their own out-group, but it could be political, like the Algerians and the French."

"I talked with French kids whose ideologies were different and had been in the student riots and this was another learning experience for me. And I'd studied French all through Princeton's schools so I thought I knew French — until I got to France!"

But the real culture shock was coming home. Riding in from the airport, we saw for the first time those American flag decals on cars, and it was scary — seeing this recent hypermaterialism.

"You gain a perspective on a lot of things in the United States and you see a lot of the holes, like the whole materialism act. People can live very well without TV or Cadillacs."

"In fact, you don't realize what garbage there is on TV until you've been without TV for three months. And you've seen people in Europe living better, more tranquil lives than we do, without all our material possessions."

That Thesis. But the most important activity for this psychology major was a senior thesis examining the self-concepts of three to five year old black children to see whether parents' strong beliefs in black power and strong sense of black pride are transferred to the child.

For his sample, Jim selected families at the day care center affiliated with the Zion Baptist Church, Philadelphia. Dr. Leon H. Sullivan, pastor of the church, received an honorary degree this June from Princeton University.

The sample was small, 23 children and their parents, and the results not completely conclusive; however, they were significant enough to capture the attention of a member of the psychology department at the University of Rochester, and that's where Jim will be charged by Borough Juvenile Officer Thomas Proccacino with having a 17 year old Lawrenceville girl sell marijuana for him in March at the Cata-

Who Graduated? "When I comb, a teenage recreation came to Princeton as a fresh man. I thought everybody at the University was in the Bail for James Moore of genius category," he recalls. Trenton was set at $2000. He with that same gentle smile said, "Well, I discovered that most police last week after he of the guys aren't I had two smashed a display window at the store, Philadelphia. The Wright Hardware Store on and they kept trying to impress Nassau Street and stole two each other by comparing Col Board scores.

"When I heard their scores, I just kept quiet about my own. But you know what? I'm the only one who graduated."

MAN FINED $105:
For Cashing 3 Bad Checks, Martin Grubb of Hightstown was fined $25 and $10 court costs last week in Borough criminal court on each of three charges of passing worthless checks.

Judge Theodore T. Tams is used the fines after Grubb pleaded not guilty to passing two checks at the Pink Eye Plant and one at Cousins Liquor Store. Two were for $20, one for $18.

Arthur G. Leckie Jr., 24, of Trenton, waived a preliminary hearing and was held for action by a Grand Jury. He has been charged by Borough Juvenile Officer Thomas Proccacino with having a 17 year old Lawrenceville girl sell marijuana for him in March at the Cata-television sets. Arrested in his car, the 39 year old Moore has been charged with breaking and entering, larceny, and possession of stolen property.

POOL INCOME IN LINE
With Previous Years, B's mid-June income from the pool and tennis complex at Community Park has reached $15,916 or slightly more than $3,000 than at the same time in 1968.

Recreation Director R. Donald Barr, who released the figures at last week's meeting of the Joint Recreation Board, said, "I can't see any tremendous problem; we're just about breaking even." The commission still must take in about $15,000 more to meet its yearly operating expenses of $61,000.

Most of the remainder will be made up in daily admission fees where receipts dropped from $11,000 in the first year of operation to $10,000 last year. This year, even though the children's daily admission fee to the pools was cut in half, Mr. Barr predicted that admission fees would "probably a mount to the same as last year."

So far, with the Memorial Day and opening weekends gone by — traditionally the best for revenue — more than $2200 has been received in daily admission fees.

LOUNGE IS "IN"
In Last Days of School, Princeton High School's Student Lounge, "The Other Side," seems to have been an instant success. For PHS students in the last weeks of the term, it meant a place of their own creation where they could go and talk, listen to records, play pool and ping-pong, or just relax and slip away from the schoolroom atmosphere.

Early in April a special Student Lounge Student Committee was formed within CASA, PHS's Commission of Action on School Affairs.

In the weeks that followed, volunteer student members solicited aid from business firms in and around Princeton. Margaret Bond, Marsha Scott, and Robert Arbagast, co-chairmen of CASA, list the following merchants who contributed equipment and furnishings to the student lounge:

Morris Maple and Son, several gallons of interior wall paint; Young's Music Shop, two records; The Game Room, Oulja board; The Fabric Center, ten per cent discount from list price for curtain material; Skillman Furniture Co., two sofas, eight chairs and three desks.

Also Grover Lumber Co., table tennis outfit; Zinder's Toys, table tennis paddle; F. W. Woolworth's, one Frisbee; Center Sports, table tennis net; Tiger Auto, table tennis balls.

We tried raising money with several early-morning doughnut and coffee breakfasts at school, but we never could have gotten all the things we needed without these contributions," Miss Bond says.

Mr. Arbagast, chemistry instructor at PHS, points out that the above list may have missed some donors. "Because there were so many private as well as business contributors."

FUND SELECTS LEADERS
To Head It's Divisions, Stewart Otto, Business Manager of Union Camp Corporation and this year's vice-president and chairman for the United Fund-Red Cross Campaign, has announced the leaders for the fund's various divisions.

The assistant chairmen are: Thomas Brennan, Public Service Gas & Electric Co.; Charles A. Hurford, RCA; and Robert G. McGary, N.J. Bell Telephone Company.

The following appointments were also made: research division, John P. Smith; fund special gifts, Peter C. Holmback, 11, 166 Winfield Road; Princeton University; Louis Vivian, Jr., Director, Regional & Governmental Relations, Princeton University; mercantile, William Edtmur, Walter B. Howe, and Alan G. OPERA IS COMING

To Open Air Theatre, Gouma's "Faust" will be sung by members of the Princeton Opera Association in a production to be given at the Open Air Theatre, Washington Crossing State Park on July 11 and 12. It will be repeated July 18 and 19. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Deborah Truxal, Princeton singer who was finalist in the national auditions of the Metropolitan Opera Association, will sing Marguerite in the P.O.A. production. Among her other opera appearances have been Zerlina in "Don Giovanni" at Town Hall in New York last month, and Gretel in "Hansel and Gretel" at McCarter Theatre in Princeton last fall.

Later this year, she will sing at the Newport Music Festival and in New York's Carnegie Hall as soprano soloist in "Messiah."

"BORN YESTERDAY"

At Murray Theatre—Almost Air-conditioned McCormick 10, the building next to Murray Theatre on the Princeton University campus, will be the showcase for this summer's Summer Intimate Film Festival. "Born Yesterday," the Judy Holliday hit, is the opener, scheduled for an 8 p.m. showing next Monday. Admission is $5 each, and reservations may be made by calling 422-8181.

"Born Yesterday," has Broadway Crawford and William Holden with Miss Holliday in the cast. You'll recall the she plays a dumb blonde whose unique brand of common sense outwits a scrap-iron tycoon.

"OLIVER!"

In Trenton, A new theatre group in Trenton called the Olde Towne Players will present Lionel Bart's "Oliver!" this Friday, Saturday and Sunday at St. James Church, Trenton at 8:15 p.m. Sunday matinee will be 2:30.

The production is sponsored by the CYO at St. James, and will star Darryl DeFeo, a fourth-grader at St. James School, as the orphan, Oliver Twist. Andrew Calabrese, also a student at St. James, will play the Artful Dodger. Other cast members will be Walter MacNichol, who has been in several Trenton Theatre-in-the-Park productions, as Mr. Bumble and Rita Gandelman as the girl Nancy, who befriends the orphan Oliver.

"... AND NINE TO GO"

"Ten Little Indians." One guest chokes to death from poison in his cocktail early on in "Ten Little Indians," and from that point, it's just a question of count-down until the murderer is finally revealed.

Agatha Christie's suspense thriller, "Ten Little Indians," will be on stage at the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope through Saturday, July 5, with matinees Wednesdays and Saturdays at 2 p.m. and the usual 8:30 p.m. evening curtain.

The ten little Indians are a group of guests invited for the weekend to a country house on an island off the coast of England. The guests have never met one another before, nor have they met their host. They haven't even met the audience, for that.

Reservations may be made by calling 215-862-2941, or writing the Playhouse in New Hope, Pennsylvania, 18938.

LEARN BALLET

In Summer Classes. Children as young as kindergarten and as old as sixth grade are invited to the summer classes that will be held at the Princeton Ballet Society studios, Alexander Street.

Adults and professionals are invited, too, and Ramon Segarra will teach intermediate and advanced classes starting with sixth graders and ranging through adults and professional dancers.

Beginners and intermediates (kindergarten through grade five) will be taught by Therese Donohue. She has planned course involving the elements of rhythm, utilizing ropes, balls and tambourines.

Mrs. Donohue has spent the past year in London studying the Cecchetti method of ballet under Kathleen Yates, and she will return to London this fall. Mr. Segarra has performed extensively as guest dancer with various ballet companies, and has taught as well.

Detailed information on schedules and classes available from the studio at 921-7773.

PRINCE

True Grit (now playing) puts that venerable American institution, John Wayne, back in the saddle, again, in a role, that some critics claim should certainly win him an Oscar nomination. If not the prize itself. Taken from the novel of the same name by Charles Portis, who almost appears to have written it especially for Wayne, the film centers on the search of a crotchety old U.S. Marshall and a teenage girl, the killer of the girl's father, As Rooster Cogburn, the marshal, with only one good eye, an insatiable taste for booze, Wayne gives a vigorous performance.

The teenage girl, who gave the book so much of its charm as an odd and willful little wildcat, determined to avenge her father's death, is played down a bit in the film by Kim Darby. Glen Campbell, the Texan Ranger, also looking for the same killer, is just another cowboy next to Wayne. Readers of the book may miss some of its quirky humor, but to compensate, it's a big family western in the traditional Wayne style, with plenty of violence and the usual beautiful western scenery.

Incidentally the film received an "M" net a "G" rating from the MPA. According to one trade publication: "Apparently the 'M' is due to some of the film's dialogue by Wayne — epithets regarding the legitimacy of the birth of some of his enemies and other disparagements, which seem to be on the mild side these days."

GARDEN and DRIVE-IN

Run Wild, Run Free (now playing) bears superficial resemblance to all those countless benefit Saturday matinees, which record the love affair of a boy with a dog or a horse or even a deer. "Run Wild" has all the virtues of this type of film, but its well-told story line runs a good bit deeper, making it a family movie with some meaning for parents too. The script, by David Rook, who based it on his own novel, "The White Colt," concerns a disturbed 10-year-old boy (John Lester, who played the leading role in "Oliver"), who has withdrawn into himself and refused to speak a single word to anyone. His parents, Gordon Jackson and Sylvia Syms, are unable to reach him, but a neighbor of the family, John Mills, a retired Colonel, takes an interest in the boy, tracks down a wild colt for him and eventually teaches him how to ride it.

Slowly the lad is brought out of himself and at the end he has started to speak again. The personal relationships are all developed subtly and intelligently in the film and much more is implied than is ever — Continued on Next Page

Game Of The Week

KALLIOSCOPE POCKET VIEWER MICROSCOPE IN A MAGIC BOX

Paul Motisse has produced a device no larger than your hand in which you can see some of the most timeless and perfect phenomenon of nature. It is a sealed glassbox containing a crystal-filled liquid that reflects light into endless moving patterns. The slightest variations of temperature or motion will make its glimmering surface come alive with ever-changing designs. Not only beautiful to watch, the Kallioscope is like a miniature universe. It seems to encompass all things. In it you can "see" summer clouds, spiral galaxies or sea currents. For some, these images evoke thoughts of life and time. You can enjoy a Kallioscope for its beauty or for its interest, for its art or for its science. Everyone will find his own world in this remarkable creation. $15. (Heating stand, optional: $10.)

said. Besides the colt, the showstealer is a falcon named "Lady," who acquires a real personality in the film.

The film was photographed on location in the Dartmoor Country of England, providing some fine color shots of the moors.

PLAYHOUSE

Goodbye, Columbus (held over), Philip Roth's novella comes to the screen a humorous, bittersweet love story that is the latest word cinematically, but surprisingly old hat theatrically.

It's unabashed "schmalz," sparklingly acted and visually interesting. It will inspire tons of childhood memories, chuckles of recognition, and perhaps wring a tear or two.

It concerns the Typical Jewish Family, with Richard Benjamin making his film debut as Neil Klugman, the over-20 librarian with no ambitions, Ali MacGraw, an enchanting wide-eyed brunette, captivated as Brenda, the spoiled, arrogant daughter of social-climbing Jewish parents.

The Association sings some appealing new songs. The "now" look is supplied by flashily editing, nudity and frank dialogue.

CAMP PROGRAMS SET
By Mercer Girl Scouts, The Mercer Girl Scouts Council will sponsor two camp programs
one day and one overnight,
for both scouts and non-scouts.
Each program, open to girls 10 to 12, will have three two week sessions.

Camp Wanda, located near Crown Ridge, will be operated as an overnight camp. Girls will have a ten-day session,
arriving on Monday, home
Friday afternoon for the weekend, and back again for the second week. Activities will include swimming, boating, arts and crafts, archery, dramatics, cooking, nature study and games.

For girls, 12-17, there will be special programs, if desired.
Session one, July 7-18, will concentrate on creative arts,
painting, drawing, dramatics,
music. Session two, July 21-August 1, will offer a canoeing program, including a trip down
the Delaware, for girls who have earned the Red Cross Swimmers' badge or the equivalent. Session three, Aug. 4-15, will be a bicycling unit, which will ride to Wharton State Park, where the girls will camp, swim and enjoy activities within the area.

There will be one session of the Day Camp, held at Washington Crossing Park, July 7-18.
Activities include canoeing for older girls, creative arts, folk arts, overnights, cookouts, nature study, bicycling and singing.

Baseball for All Possible.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Re Mrs. Hope Lovering's comment (Town Topics, June 19): "Could someone tell me why, in this town, all the boys who want to can't play baseball?"

They can. For 19 years now, the Princeton YMCA, under the guidance of John Springer, has been running an "open door" Midget League for 10-12 year-old boys: no tryouts, no cuts, no permanent benchwarmers. Currently there are 14 teams of about 12 boys each; a 12-game season begins in late April and ends in mid-June. Major expenses of the League are met by sponsoring businesses and organizations in the Princeton community.

To join the Midget League, all a boy must do is fill out a "contract"—an application form distributed in the local schools and at the Y in March of each year. A $10 entrance fee helps defray costs of equipment, umpires, groundskeeping and insurance; should the entrance fee prove a hardship, a scholarship fund (to which Town Topics has contributed) is available. A boy need not belong to the YMCA to participate.

Perhaps we have not generated enough publicity in the past regarding the Y's Midget League efforts, but I think virtually everyone connected with the league—coaches, parents and the kids themselves—is in agreement about its value.

Y Offers Baseball for All, 9-12.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
In the June 19th TOWN TOPICS Mailbox is a mother's poignant appeal for "Baseball for All (young boys)". Fathers might well be even more concerned. The point is so fundamentally sound that it well deserves immediate response and long range consideration.

First: yes indeed, a good community should provide activities for children and youth, replete with physical involvement, psychic satisfactions and the holding power of "the gang".

Second: yes indeed, for 20 years now, the Princeton YMCA Midget Baseball League has provided spring semester baseball for all boys 9-12 who sign up and show up. Since 1950 the "Y" League has provided teams, coaches, uniforms, practices, games, a league all under substantial conduct and backing; again, all this for every boy.

Baseball rules have been modified to accommodate the physical development of players. Coaches work out with every player in every practice and try to get every boy into every scheduled game.

At this exact point, "the old baseball men" or "let the best guys do all the playing" exponents usually object. There are leagues built on recruiting, try-outs, selection and rejection (this at ages 9 and 10). And many like that view it might be called a baseball activity using boys—versus—

It is a pleasure to find, in 1959, that the Princeton YMCA Midget Baseball League still follows the every boy on a team philosophy.

Still needed: an all community, all year athletics program for all boys.

How's Your Heating System?

Seems like a silly question to ask in the middle of a hot spell doesn't it? But the warmer the weather, the easier it is to forget your heating system. Don't wait until October, when plumbing and heating contractors are pinned down by a rush of shivering householders.

If your heating system needs modernizing or repairs, NOW is the time to have it done. NOW is the time when it can be checked completely, with no shortage of materials, and no hurry-up by people pressured to get their job done.

A Home Improvement Loan to pay for assured winter warmth can be arranged quickly and easily at the Princeton Bank with repayments fitted to your budget.

You can borrow at low bank interest rates, put your heating system in shape, spend a relaxed summer—and a warm pleasant winter!

CAESAR'S GEMS

There is something particularly masculine about carved and engraved gems and actually, it was the men who first wore them in jewelry. The delicate carvings for the ladies came much later in history, in fact, several centuries after the birth of Christ, whereas engraved gems were lavishly worn by the emperors and Roman leaders from 2300 B.C. The first carved stones were the familiar scarabs but after the Greek influence, scarab designs were supplanted by other influences such as mythology of great deeds, current events and religious ideas.

At the time of Caesar, portraits came into popularity, and there were also several gems engraved with scenes showing warriors and chariots. The peacock, the symbol of eternal peace, when shown with an urn, was said to insure immortality, and a shub haringer of good luck. These and other motifs were collected on fine gems by the leaders of the day. Julius Caesar had no less than six emeralds of ancient gems, many of them acquired as plunder in his various battles. His signet bore the standing figure of Venus Victoria holding a palm. The signet that he took from Pompey was shown by Caesar to the Senate as verification of his foe's death. Presumably, it was then added to his personal collection.

Today, engraved and carved gems are still favored by men, although the glyptic art does not have many practitioners now. Fortunate is the man who perhaps has a family heirloom of such a stone. Occasionally, we jewelers are able to obtain fine engraved gems. If you should be interested in such a stop in and see me and perhaps we can be of help.

Sensitivity Program Backed.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
We have recently participated in Sensitivity Training Groups sponsored by the United Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., led by men who have attended almost every major center of Sensitivity Training in the nation.
We find Mr. Edward Ahrens' letter of June 4 to TOWN TOPICS concerning the school board proposal to enter Princeton teachers in such groups, wholly unrelated to our experience in the groups.

Mr. Ahrens sees Sensitivity Training as brain washing of leftist behavioral scientists, based on self-criticism and group criticism. We found it to produce a unique community of mutual trust and help in criticism as well as criticism from the group.
This was leveled in an effort to produce new insights into one's self knowledge, and the individual was constantly supported by the group in a way we have rarely if ever encountered elsewhere.

We merged from the training groups with warmer feelings towards people, based on a broader understanding of PLAY IS CREATIVE. These youngsters from New York's P.S. 178, Ocean Hill-Brownsville, spent Friday morning at Creative Playthings, trying out jungle-gyms and slides and cooling off in the country-style shade of the big trees. Early first-graders, with their teachers came on Friday. Children from Trenton and Hightstown, as well as Ocean Hill-Brownsville, have accepted Creative Playthings' invitation to come and play during the last weeks of the spring school term.

Others' experience, with us in community and our children, together to attempt rapport with those whom we had previously found unresponsive, with a tendency to talk with diminished reservation to those before whom we had previously raised barriers.

In general, we like life better. We see great possibilities in Sensitivity Training for heightening sympathetic responsiveness of us all to one another.

We think that teachers in our schools — and anyone else could profit from Sensitivity Training if they voluntarily join groups led by responsible trainers, with minds open to the possibility of change in their own attitudes and behavior.

More on Training Program.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Last week I attended an open meeting of people who are concerned about Sensitivity Training. It was an overflow meeting and everyone was given an opportunity to express his thoughts and opinions.

After at least two hours of discussion, the majority of the people present felt that Sensitivity Training at least the type being pushed in Lawrence Township, is dangerous enough to warrant the formation of a group to find out more about what the program actually entails, and what our local schools and teachers are doing about it.

The machinery for organizing a formal group was set in motion. Anyone with any information pro or con Sensitivity Training, or anyone who is concerned about what such a program could do to our

PEOPLE In The News

Twenty-four members of the staff of Princeton University who are retiring this month were honored this week at a reception given by President Robert F. Goheen. Five of those retiring have worked for the University for 40 years or more. Another has served for almost four decades, while two have completed over a quarter-century of service.

The senior staff member to retire is George J. Willis, 131 Moore Street, Dormitory and Food Services Department, who is stepping down after an even half-century of service. Retiring with Mr. Willis this month is his wife, the former Edith Metzger, a University telephone operator for the past 26 years.

University Registrar Howard W. Stepp, The Bowerie, Pretty Brink Road, Princeton, who during his Princeton career was the University's nationally-known head coach of swimming, is retiring with 40 years of service, as is James J. Reed, 34 River Drive, Titusville, Department of Athletics and Physical Education. Mr. Reed was formerly head coach of both wrestling and soccer.

Peter A. Lappan, 201 Moore Street, Administrative Aide in Dormitory and Food Services, has completed 39 years of service, while Miss Hazel C. Beajamia, 142 Linden Lane, is being cited for 28 years of library service in the Industrial Relations Section whose library resources now include more than 100,000 cataloged items.

Other staff members honored are:

Jobe M. Beran, Maple Avenue, Neshanic Station; Dormitory and Food Services, 16 years.

Warner C. Duster, 69 Birch Avenue; Dormitory and Food Services, 23 years.

Miss Martha G. Hall, 16 Vandewater Avenue; University Library, 24 years.

Mrs. Gerda E. Harms, 66 Wiggin Street; University Library, 15 years.

Mrs. Leslie J. Luck, Sr., 6 Edgemere Avenue, Plainsboro; University Machine Shops (Sr. Clerk), 13 years.

Edward B. Luckett, 12 S. Stenoworth Drive; Princeton University Conference, 15 years.

Miss Margaret A. Maple, 11

Seventy-six years of combined service to Princeton University will end this month when the husband and wife team of George and Edith Willis, retire.

In the days when the University's vehicle fleet was still out-numbered by horses, Mr. Willis was assigned to the dining halls staff as a truck driver. For years he drove a two-cylinder, chain-drive Autocar, hauling milk from area dairy farms and produce from Trenton. He remembers Nassau Street as a dirt road and one of the highlights of his younger years was a cross-country

Mrs. Alfred E. Sorensen, 150 Patton Avenue; Statistics Departmental Secretary, 15 years.

Torjus Thorsen, 21 Pine Street; Dormitory and Food Services, 21 years.

Judson A. Timm, Spring Hill, Hopewell; Department of Athletics and Physical Education, 24 years.

Wallace A. Wanzer, 47 Leigh Avenue; Department of Planning, Plant and Properties, 13 years.

Mrs. Willis, who began working regularly with Princeton in 1945 after serving as a relief operator for a number of years, has seen the University switchboard expand from a two-position manual board to a three-position center operation, which is the equivalent of about a 10-operator board.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Willis hope to enjoy their home, perhaps take a trip, and possibly find part-time work in their respective fields — after all, for two active people, it's almost too early to "retire."

Rake, 152 Cedar Lane, were named at Rutgers College. Deborah A. Teagarden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Teagarden, 25 Edwards Place, was named at Princeton College. She will transfer to Princeton University this fall as a member of the junior class.

Drast Sergeant Jan Christiansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lars Christiansen, 57 Alexander Road, Princeton Junction, is a member of an air force unit in North Camp Drake, Japan, that has been cited as the best maintenance unit in the Far East Region. A graduate of Princeton High School, Sgt. Christiansen is a radio repairman in the 196th Communications Squadron, selected for its superior maintenance activities.

John F. Hornhaghsen, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Elmer Hornhaghsen, 117 Library Place, has been awarded an A.B. degree from George Washington University. Mr. Hornhaghsen was on the Dean's List at the university. (Continued on page 40)

WAGE AND PRICE CONTROLS NOT THE ANSWER. Both Lawrence P. Goldman (left) and his father-in-law, Irving Shepard, do not see inflation as the top problem facing the administration, and even if it were they do not think federal wage and price controls would be an effective solution. More on inflation and the advisability of government controls below. (Staff Photo)

Question Of The Week

Question: Would you be in favor of, or opposed to, federal wage and price controls as a means to curbing inflation in the United States?

Where Asked: Palmer Square.

Henry McCarter, New Brunswick, graduate student in genetics at Rutgers: If we have to do something desperate to stop inflation — and this is pretty desperate — then I'd rather see this happen than things get out of hand. If things get any worse, we're in trouble.

Miss Virginia Bennett, Spruce Street, graduate student, Slavic languages: I know I'm for control of things like rent, so I suppose I might be favorably disposed toward this. I certainly feel prices are high today. It involves a much wider question of federal control — how much should there be — but I think we have to resign ourselves to it.

Ralph Trani, 9 Lytle Street, janitor: Yes, I'm in favor. It would help everybody. That way, prices wouldn't go up any higher. They're too high now.

Penrose Reiver, Drexell Hill, Pa., self-employed: We've got some federal control right now. If you mean where farmers can make thousands of dollars for not raising anything, then I'm opposed to that. Generally, I'm against any government participation in business. It usually gets bogged down. If the government sets up a department in Princeton today to administer some program, half the costs would be eaten up just by the mechanics of administering it. It's always the little guy that gets caught in the squeeze of government controls.

Lawrence P. Goldman, 46 South Stanwirth Drive, director of the Undergraduate Urb an Activities Program at Princeton University: If control of inflation is a high priority for the administration, it's unlikely that informal federal wage and price control will be effective. The trouble with wage and price controls is they just don't work. I strongly believe that the control of inflation should not be, at this point, a top goal of national domestic policy. I say that because I think there are other domestic issues much more important than the control of inflation, such as poverty and underemployment. I believe any effective treatment of these problems will control, or at least maintain, the rate of inflation — without any substantial Vietnam cutbacks. The way to control inflation is not through wage and price controls but to cutback our military spending and forego the development of the insane ABM program.

Irving Shepard, Mamaroneck, N. Y., sales agency head: I agree with my son-in-law, but I would like to add one point: Vietnam is only one small part of inflation. The United States has bases in 182 areas in the world and the amount of money necessary to support the three and one-half million men based in these countries is equal to whatever is being spent on the Vietnam war. Am I opposed to wage and price control? Certainly I am, although I think the majority of my generation would be in favor of some form of federal control.

Miss Lois Margerum, 120 Prospect Street, keypunch operator for Princeton University: I think we should have price controls but as far as wage controls, I'm not so sure. I realize wages are going up but this is only because prices keep going up and up. In fact, everything is going up as far as I care. I think if we had price control first, then they can bring wages in line.

Wayne Anderson, Lawrence Court: No, I'm not in favor of this because this is a capitalist society and this is a result of capitalism. If we are going to operate in a capitalist society, we are going to have to learn to handle this problem without the government step in.

Michael Gabrick, Princeton Inn maintenance man: They should do something about it — prices are just too high. But sometimes the government can do no good, too. They don't always look out for you. I don't know what the solution is. I'll tell you one thing, raises don't mean a thing. You get a 50-cent an hour raise and they charge you 49 cents more for the same amount of food I was better off in 1927 than I am now.

Karol S. Pyka, Griggstown, inotype operator: Yes, I would be in favor of more controls for everybody. If you could be sure of your dollar, you don't know what it's going to be worth a few weeks from now. Everyone who wants to be asking for more money and that keeps raising prices. I even think education should be under federal control, as it is in almost every country in Europe, and I don't mean Communist countries, either.

Tony Ferrara, 25 Madison Street, carpenter: They are only hitting the little guy, the wage earner. If they are going to control it, control everyone. Control big industry, control all incomes. It's not fair to hit the wage earner. The same is true about the income tax — so many millionaires don't pay anything at all. But we can't write anything off. Actually, I think price controls are more important. Control them first, and if you have control of the things people buy, then you have a better chance of controlling wages.

UNC DOMINATES TENNIS
As Mexican Students Win A Cup
Cup players led the University of California to a clean sweep of all the honors in the NCAA Tennis Tournament last week.
Juan Luis Loya Mayo, 5'6, 135 lb., senior, defeated sophomore Mike Estep of Rice in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3, to win the singles title. Shortly thereafter, he paired with Marcello Lanza, with whom he forms the Mexican international doubles team, to win that championship.

It was an all-USC final, as the victors trounced Bob Lutz and Steve Ayer, 7-5, 6-4, 12-10. Lutz has been seeded no. 1 in the singles, but bowed out in the quarter finals.
Loya Mayo trailed only once during the match, when Estep broke through his service in the second game. Frequently during the brief 65 minute contest, Loya Mayo concentrated on the loser's backhand, scoring

MAYBE SOME OF IT WILL RUB OFF: Some of the ball boys who served during the NCAA Tennis Tournament had their picture taken Saturday with Joaquin Loya-Mayo, the University of Southern California star who then went on to win the singles championship and share the doubles title. Grouped around him (left to right) are Dwight Wilson, Dick Broad, Denny Schulman, Hank Stratton, Bobby Lieberman, Mike Coda, Randy Thomas, Chris Lillie, Butch Borchard, Chris Bauman and Steve Norris.

ing consistently on weak returns.
Southern Cal., the defending team champion, repeated with a total of 35 points. UCLA followed with 22, while others among the 38 colleges entered which finished with high totals were Trinity of Texas, Rice, Miami, Florida, Utah, Arizona and Stanford. Princeton's tie for 13th with Texas and Brigham Young was the top showing by an eastern team.

Nine of Princeton's four singles entries lasted beyond Wednesday in the six-day tournament. The Tiger doubles team of Bob Gendie and Rich Howell just missed making the quarter-finals, bowing to a Miami duo, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3. Action was topped by the American Broadcasting System for its Wide World of Sports program, which will be shown starting at 5 Saturday on Channels 6 and 7.

RATISCHMIDT TO RETURN
Will Coach Freshman Crew.
James A. Ratschmidt, who coached crew here before beginning 19 years as head coach of rowing at Yale, will return in Princeton with the beginning of the academic year next fall. He will coach the freshman heavyweights.

His decision to resign at New Haven was based on a desire to be relieved, at age 36, "of the pressures of serving as head coach." He also expressed a wish to resume living in Princeton, which first became a part of his life when he was a student at the Hun School 40 years ago.

Ratschmidt was a sculling instructor here in 1936 and We've cut the manufacturer's suggested retail price $193. Same car. New price. That means only $99 difference between Maverick and Valiant.

More interior room. More luggage space. More horsepower. And fuel economy. Like 23.5 mpg in the '69 Union/Pure Oil Performance Trials.

More comfort, better handling and stability from a longer wheelbase, wider front track, bigger tires and torsion-bar front suspension.

More stopping power from bigger brakes.
And standard equipment like all-vinyl interior,
inside day/night mirror and seat belt retractor.

Proven reliability built in by Chrysler Corporation engineering know-how.

And Vallant is a proven favorite around the world. In fact it is the best selling U.S. nameplate outside the U. S. and Canada. A pretty good endorsement from people who need transportation tough enough for rugged roads and severe weather.

Valiant gives you the added assurance of proven high resale value, and the backing of Chrysler Corporation's 12 month/12,000 mile warranty on the entire vehicle (excluding tires) and the five year/50,000 mile power train warranty.

So if you're looking for a lot more car for a small difference in price, see your Plymouth-Valiant dealer. He tells it like it is.

He will be assisted by Tom Murray, a member of the physical education faculty at Princeton High School. Murray will continue to teach and to coach wrestling at PHS.

LEAD UNCHANGED
In Business Softball, Games went mostly according to form in the Business Softball League last week, as McGraw Hill won its seventh straight to keep the lead in the east, and NCA captured its sixth Shell victory to remain one game ahead of its nearest rival.

While McGraw Hill was beating ETS, 7-2, the Accelerator-FMC contest was postponed until this Wednesday. Accelerator is one game back in the last column and can not afford to lose any games if it hopes to catch McGraw Hill when the two meet for the second time.

NCA outgashed Firmenich, 9-5, to raise its record to 6-1, a game ahead of both RCA Labs A and Columbia Carlson. RCA Ash and RCA Ash also had a defeat, 5-1, as winning pitcher Max Hopkins limited the losers to six hits. His brother, Mike, errorless ball behind him, and Doug Bosomworth had two of his team's seven hits.

Carlson remained in contention with an 11-6 triumph over Hopewell TV. Jack Sheldon hit the circuit, with a single, double, triple, and a home run, Bob Lewis had three hits and Bruce McInyre a brace of doubles for the winners.

American Cynamid moved into sole possession of third place in the east, three games back of the leader, by whipping ERC, 17-9. Bob Allen and Ed Binsley led the winners with three hits apiece, while Spence Carter had two hits including a home run.

RCA B kept itself out of the cellar with a 5-2 victory over winless EMR. Tom Connolly was four for four for the winners. Shell Chemical won its second game of the campaign, 6-4, over Dow Jones. Shell scored all of its six runs in the first two, error-filled innings. Dick Gillespie had a four-bagger for the losers.

TENNIS TOURNEY HERE

For Boys-Girls 18, 16, The annual New Jersey District Junior Championships for boys and girls 18, 16, a USLTA sanctioned event, will be held at Princeton University's Campus, beginning Monday morning at 9.

John Canoy, tennis coach at Princeton, is referee of the event. Registration chairman and treasurer is William Inquiries have been received from states as far away as Florida, Texas and Illinois. Plans to accommodate the visiting players are being made by Mrs. Dede Webster of Brookstone Drive and Mrs. J. Constable of Rosedale Road, co-chairmen of the housing committee. Anyone who would like to offer housing to the tournament participants should call Mrs. Webster at 924-2842 or Mrs. Constable at 924-3819.

Entry blanks may be obtained from the Recreation Office in Township Hall or from any instructor of the Princeton Community Tennis Program.

SCHEDULE ANNOUNCED

For Summer Tennis Tournaments, The Princeton YMCA will sponsor five adult tennis tournaments this summer, beginning with the women's singles which will be held the week of July 7. Entries close July 4.

Interested players may sign up at the Community Courts or at the Pagoda at the University Center. Directing the tournament are Mrs. Linda Corlette (921-6172) and Mrs. Julie White (921-8047).

Other tournaments are women's doubles which will be held the week of July 14; men's doubles, July 21; men's singles, July 28; and mixed doubles, August 4.

The only fees are $1 for registration and a can of tournament quality tennis balls. Trophies will be awarded to champions and runners-up in each tournament.

All entries should be in by Friday before the start of each tournament, in order to seed players and prepare matches.

LUCAR OUT IN FRONT

In Babe Ruth League Play, winning both its games, the Lucar Hardware team took over the lead in the West Windsor Babe Ruth Baseball League in the opening week of play. Two fine pitching performances paced the Lucar victor. Larry Fowler struck out 14 batters, while holding his opponents to one hit in Lucar's 7-1 win over the Lions Club. The Lucar choking attack was paced by Gary Fowler's two singles and singles by Kevin Tylus, Mike Born, Lance Marshall and Wes McClain.

THE WINNER BY TWO STROKES: Mrs. James Thornton (left) receiving the Betty Whelan Trophy from the donor after she shot a gross 85-84, 169 to win the tournament named for the former women's champion at Springleaf Golf Club. Mrs. Thornton edged out Mrs. James Wargo, who posted a gross 86-85—171. The swagstakes event held in conjunction with the tournament went to Mrs. James Litvak and Mrs. Ralph Allaire.

In the second victory, Kevin Tylus also fanned 14 and held MacKenzie Realty to one hit in another 7-1 triumph. Wes McClain and Mike Born hit two singles apiece to pace the Lucar attack.

The Lions also won two games, with an 8-2 victory over Will's Shell and a 4-1 win over MacKenzie. Marly Clark held Will's to one hit and struck out eight for the win. Tim Moran's bases loaded double drove in three runs to spark the win.

In the victory over MacKenzie, Dennis Clark limited his opponents to five scattered hits. Tim Moran and Scott Johnson hit two singles apiece and Marly Clark drove in two runs with a clutch single to lead the Lions.

PRINCETON WOMEN, 3-2

Over Parkside Tennis Team. The Princeton Women's Tennis Team last week defeated a Parkside team from Trenton, 3-2.

Princeton won three of the four doubles matches to assure the victory. Triumphant were Fran Pokay and Barbara Glonechewich, 6-3, 6-4; Kim Dremer and Barbara Wachen, 8-6, 4-4; and Isabelle Arnone and Ruth Besser, 6-3, 12-10.

In the lone singles match, Princeton's Norman Fabian lost a three-set match, 8-6, 4-6, 4-6.

TIE IN SECOND GAME. The West Windsor 76ers of the Senior Babe Ruth League last week defeated Cedar Gardens, 6-0, and Trenton PHL, 4-4, in a game called after six innings because of darkness.

Jeff Haring stopped Cedar Gardens on only two hits. The mainstay of the Princeton High School baseball team, Jeff Haring stopped Cedar Gardens on only two hits and walked two.

West Windsor scored one run in the third when Haring singled, advanced to third and came home on a hit by team captain Gary Toth. John Hodgess doubled home the 76ers' second run in the eighth.

Against Trenton, West Windsor led 3-0 after five innings but lost its lead in the fifth when Trenton scored all its runs to take a one-run lead. West Windsor tied it in the sixth when a walk, Hodges' single and an error jammed the bases, allowing Jeff Wetterling's sacrifice fly to score Jack Roszel.

GAMES UNDER WAY

In Adult Softball League, Center's Bar and Center Sports got off to a fast start in the first week of play in the Princeton Adult Slow Pitch Softball League winning both their games, and climbing in the top of the league standings. The same teams are playing in the league this year, along with a new entry, the Outlaws, managed by Rick Hagadorn. Games are played Monday and Wednesday nights at 6:15 at Community Park.

Center's Bar, formerly the Antler's Sportsman Club, scored a total of 36 runs in two games, wallowing Saturday 20-10, and the U-Store 14-6. Cranston had seven hits in the two contests to lead his mates at the plate. Jim Quinn had four hits, including two home runs, Wes Cavley, three hits, and Bill McQuade, three hits against Staran. Don Carvino had three hits for the losers.

Against the U-Store McQuade had a home run. Keith VanNate had two hits, and Budny and Dick Fowler were two for four. John Broadway had three hits for the U-Store.

Center Sports won one game by forfeit over Nassau Conover and humbled the Outlaws, 17-3 in the other. Mike Guido was four for six, and Hoyt Ellis, Frank Huran, Bob Montgomery, Jay Davis and Angelo Provenzano all had three hits. John Pilipczak has four hits, Hagadorn has four hits and Gerald Grover, three, for the Outlaws.

The Outlaws lost their second game in Teague & Hinds, 11-5. Bob Bailey, and Carl Brown had two hits for the winners. Al Gordon had a home run, Jeff Gruber was three for three for the Outlaws.

In its other game Teague & Hinds lost to Nassau Conover, 10-5. Bruce Sandvik has three for four, Tony Bocanuso, three for four, Larry Goldman, two for four and Tom Emory, two for three for the winners. The U-Store won its first game, 13-12, over Ivy Inn.

Only the rear view of this western section home, as shown above, gives an indication of its size. With 2 large bedrooms, both and family room with fireplace on the lower level, it lends itself beautifully to use by older children or adults. The main level becomes a self contained 3 bedroom 2 bath ranch with back to back fireplaces in living room and dining room. All brick, excepting the stained back wall, makes for minimal upkeep. 3 acres with woods and brook. $79,900

Our newest 4 bedroom, 2½ bath listing in Rocky Hill makes a good family home with its beamed den and extra family room. The old brick floored foyer lends a cozy note, the natural cedar Colonial exterior means low upkeep and the 2 car garage and basement add practicality. 180 x 300 lot. $44,000

Near the University, Exterior just freshly painted on this comfortable 3 bedroom, 1½ bath Township home with fireplace and basement play area for the youngsters. Nicely treed enclosed rear lot. $36,500

Exceptional 4 bedroom 2½ bath Colonial with white and soft aqua predominating from foyer through living and dining rooms with carpeting to match. Kitchen with dining space is luxuriously carpeted and there is a paneled family room conveniently nearby. $12,500

Needed — A special family who delights in large living areas, a beautiful dead end street in Pennington, but is not intimidated by a smallish bedroom. 30' family room, study, huge glorified mother's pantry, screened porch, 2½ baths, basement and 2 car garage. 5 BEDROOMS — on 5 beautiful acres in the country, where the land is rolling and dotted with clumps of trees, here is a large house built by a builder for himself. First level has family room, 2 bedrooms and bath, the lower floor has living-dining room, a wonderful kitchen with walnut cabinets, 3 bedrooms and bath. Lots of storage space. $15,900 house for a big family. (*)

WONDERFUL . . . what a way to live — your own big, cool swimming pool, on your own two acres in the country, with fine trees and shrubs, and lawn spreading in all directions! The house is charming — a whole large living room, dining area, kitchen with many built-ins, study, and 3 bedrooms, 2 baths. Not such a large house to be sure, but the flyer and property is designed to be a place where you, and your friends, can enjoy life. (*) $45,000

PRECIOUS . . . this is a darling of a house — exactly suited to a romantic couple, or to be the wedding present to a young bride (and groom). Almost hidden behind the trees and hedges, as you drive by you get a glimpse of brick and a rugged cedar shake roof that tells its story of quality and charm. On Province Line Road, near Beden's Brook, the neighborhood is one of the best in Princeton's Area. The house has living room, dining room, den with beamed ceiling, music room with slate floor, kitchen, and (upstairs) 4 bedrooms and 1 bath. (*) $49,500

ONLY 10 MINUTES from Princeton, on one-and-a-half beautiful landscaped acres, this long, low, spacious home was designed to make living in the country a real pleasure. It's a treat just to gaze at the wide, sweeping lawn, and to watch the garden blossom. Indoors, the living and dining rooms are large & airy, and the kitchen is a place of the owner's, this marvelous kitchen, with a place for everything and lots of room for family breakfasts and lunches. 3 big bedrooms, 2 full baths, a study (or 4th bedroom) and 2 porches. These are the rooms that hold a half a visit will enable you to appreciate how close this comes to being your dream home. (*) $66,900

TRULY RURAL . . . not far from the Delaware River, hidden in a cluster of great old shade trees right in the middle of a large working farm, this 200-year-old fieldstone farm house is already restored and modernized, and ready to move into 4.9 acres of land, with fruit trees, etc. The house has a spacious foyer, with a charming powder room to the left. To the right, a large living room with fireplace, a large library, too, has a fireplace. There is a very big dining room, and a kitchen with large windows with ample breakfast space and a huge fireplace with built-in grill where you can actually grill steaks! Separate study or 4th bedroom and 2 porches. A beautiful 3-car garage. Outdoors:
nice shrubbery and a big swimming pool. (*) $76,500

FOR MODERN LIVING . . . central air-conditioning, of course, for comfort; a huge living room in a wing by itself, so that it's a place to live in, not a passageway; master bedroom study and bath (four porches) on one side of the house, away from the children and their TV; a big kitchen so gleaming and modern that every housewife will yearn for it. Separate dining room with fireplace. A spacious master bedroom with power room, and 3 more bedrooms and bath. For a family with 3 children, here is a $75,000 house that has everything. (*)

HORSES! . . . HORSES! — only a short drive from Princeton, here are 11 acres in a very nice, very horse country landscape. There's a big barn, too a very solid structure that needs new siding, but is large enough for 4 box stalls and a tack room. The land is rolling, with many trees and shrubs, but it's not a forest — you can really look over your own acres and enjoy the view. The old farm house has a great big, comfortable new foyer and large paneled living room with fireplace, a great big comfortable modern kitchen, bedroom and bath on the first floor. Upstairs, there is now a large apartment, with its own entrance, which brings in more than 4 bedrooms and bath. (*) $53,500

LIVE IN YOUR OWN PARK . . . flowering shrubs, towering trees, smooth lawn — all these provide a setting for one of the finest homes we have ever had the pleasure of offering. And all Summer, long, your family will enjoy the view. The old farm house has a great big, comfortable new foyer and large paneled living room with fireplace, a great big comfortable modern kitchen, bedroom and bath on the first floor. Upstairs, there is now a large apartment, with its own entrance, which brings in more than 4 bedrooms and bath. (*) $53,500

MAGNIFICENT . . . On its own 5 acres, in a fine Princeton location, this great house stands like a monarch — away from the street. Lush shade trees and beautiful gardens surround it. Made of stone, 18 inches thick, with high ceilings and tall windows, it stays cool and quiet all through the Summer. Huge living room with fireplace, a large kitchen ("dining room" is inadequate) with fireplace; butler's pantry with cupboards for 30 place settings of your finest porcelain; fine big kitchen and powder room. Upstairs: 5 master bedrooms, 2 master bathrooms. This old house is in beautiful condition, ready for a new owner to move right in. There is a lovely terrace for outdoor living, a separate garden area for a children's playground, and plenty of privacy behind tall hedges. (*) $169,500

STUART HILL . . . Fabulous 2-acre building sits in the most desirable part of Princeton. This neighborhood appeals to people who dream of living in estates among lovely trees. All living is roomy and 44 ACRES . . . near Pennington, Prime land for development. 1½ acre zoning, 450 feet of road frontage. When Interstate 95 is completed and crosses Route 31, about half a mile away, this land will boom!
$4000 per acre

(*) Many more fine homes in Princeton & vicinity in a wide price range.
Ample parking space for our clients.
